Mr. Job Wood, Jr.,

Office Supt. of Public Instruction,

Sacramento, Calif.

My dear Job:

I have your letter of July 25th and make the necessary correction in the totals. As I have written across the face of my report, it is utterly impossible to give those data. I have included them heretofore, but they were generally estimates. The enrollment in the normal school is by classes; that is, by instructors. A student may be present at one class, and not at another. One teacher would report her absent and the other would report her present. The preceptress has usually worked this over in the best way possible and arrived at something near accuracy. This year though, the preceptress is absent, and so is Miss Pratt, who acted as preceptress during Miss Way's absence.      Neither of these ladies will be present until after the first of September, so that I do not see how anything can be done, considering that Mr. Hyatt requested that these reports be in not later than the early part of August.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) Samuel T. Black.
President.
