

The Nazis coveted the Czechoslovakia's territory. The American Colonists coveted the land of the Native Americans. The Western world covets the Arab's Oil. The Third world covets the Western World's Affluence, Technology, and Power. Conspicuousness, like greed and false witness, has its roots in envy.