

Pastoral Prayer:

Almighty God, it is good to come a-part from all the distractions of life.

It is good to know that you have invited us to come boldly with confidence.

It is good to realize that you know us completely and still love us.

Therefore we praise this morning you are worthy God and we adore you!

This has been a difficult week for some.

Our lives have been ~~inflicted~~ buffeted by the storms of temptations, financial unrest, emotional upheaval, social frustrations and physical sickness.

We have felt the arrows of attack from the world, the flesh and the devil.

Be pleased to minister your healing, O gracious and great Physician.

We praise you that your grace is sufficient.

We have not faced anything that is greater than your provision.

For "greater is he that is in us, than he that is in the world."

May we, like the psalmist, discover the privilege of trusting in you, delighting in you, committing

Our way to you And then finally ~~ending~~ being at rest in you's

We delight to call you our Father,
Through the merits of Christ
