Life of Service. Jackie Robinson, a person whose 50 year Celebration means having in our nation to-day, for breaking the color barrier in Baseball, was right when he said, "A life is not important except in the impact that has on other lives."

My three year olds in our Church's School, begin their day in their Assembly by singing their theme song: "Love is nothing unless you give away". I believe you do that by helping others. Let not your personal pronouns be: Me, Myself and It." After all who was it that gave the greatest of all?
