

Eternal God: your wisdom is greater than our small minds can contain, and your truth shows up our little learning. To those who study, give curiosity, imagination, and patience enough to wait and wait for insight. Help them to doubt with courage, but to hold all their doubts in the larger faith of you, our God.

Lord, you have led us in each generation to discoveries of truth. Thank you for men and women who teach, and work in our schools. Make them eager to explore your world, searching mysteries. Never let them neglect students who are slow to learn. Keep our teachers young in mind, resilient, exciting, and devoted to human welfare.
